ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH & CLIMATE PROTECTION

—  CONFERENCE  —
MAY 26, 2022

HOSTED BY DOGWOOD ALLIANCE & SCIENCE FOR GEORGIA

Be a force in the movement to shape Georgia's future.

Georgia's first Environmental Health and Climate Protection Conference brings together community leaders, concerned citizens, elected officials, and industry experts to hear from powerful, independent voices in environmental research and justice.

Attendees to this one-day conference receive crucial, solutions-oriented information on how climate change is already impacting the environmental health of Georgia residents.

The event will be hosted live by Dogwood Alliance and Science for Georgia in Macon, GA, while being broadcast to our many online communities.

Our sponsorship opportunities listed on the next page share the many ways you can show your support and connect with individuals across Georgia looking to create meaningful change.
